Gay Banners and Colored Lights Effective Decorations for Anglers Club Pier Saturday Night

The moonlight white flannel dance given by the Anglers Club of Abscon Island was a festive affair. The clubhouse, resplendent in its gala attire, was filled to its capacity. Two glorious "str. spangled" banners were at the entrance and the entire pier was festooned with many flags and myriads of gay-colored lanterns dancing like "will-o'-wisp" in the breeze. The reception room was a bower of flowers. Huge baskets of gladiolas seemed to peep from every corner. On a table in the clubroom was an immense cake, a gift from the Hotel Traymore, which was a work of art. Carried out in colored frosting was a scene of Little Beach and a picture of President Henry W. Stelwagon landing a 40-pound channel bass. At one side was a cluster of sweet peas, made of spun sugar and in white lettering was "Success to the Anglers Club of Abscon Island."

The pavilion and pier were filled with members and guests dancing to the syncopation tunes of the Hot Money Eight, who were uniformed in white sailor suits. Midway on the pier was an old-fashioned Dutch bar where hot dogs, cheese and ham sandwiches, ice cream, cake and soft drinks were served.
