

Anglers' Club Opens

The Anglers' Club of Absecon Island, Essex Avenue and the Boardwalk, opened its Club House the past week, and the members are gradually getting into form for the season. The Club has secured Albert Augenblick as Piermaster.

Harry Gardner, after a terrific battle, reeled in a sea bass. It was one and a half inches long and weighed 1 ounce and 10 drachms (apothecary's weight).

Last Sunday, the boys went clamming; as fish were scarce, and Charlie Scherbaum was kept busy opening the bivalves for a lot of hungry mouths. Joe Roberts, after eating twenty-five, said that was just an appetizer.

The catch, from Memorial Day until Saturday, inclusive follows:

Lindenfelder	1
Breckenstock	2
Asam, Sr.	10
Asam, Jr.	1
Bud Ford	1
Joe Roberts	18
Desin	3
E. Sweet	1
Moore	2
Blaules	6
Doc. Colehower	5
Taylor, Sr.	3
J. Augenblick	3
Byers	5
Ed. Lindell	5
Judge Lindell	3
Gardner	6
Sivade	4

Started Off With a Rush

Fishing at the Anglers' Club, at Essex Ave. and the Boardwalk, started off with a rush on Sunday, May 20th, quite a variety being reeled in, but the catch was mostly kings. The following are a list of kingfish caught:

Joseph Roberts	2
Harry Michell	4
M. I. Harvey	1
B. G. Solomon	1
J. Augenblick	1
E. Einwechter	2
Dr. Colehower	6
Petzold	11
H. Asam	4
A. Foster	2
Lingenfelter	5
H. Gardner	6
T. Greco, Jr.	1
H. Colehower, Jr.	2
Greco, Sr.	1
F. Jacobs	1

Besides the kings caught as above, Harry Michell pulled in a flounder; Doc Colehower, a porgie and a spot; Henry Asam, a bass, and Howard Colehower, Jr., a spot. It is joyful news to state that Elmer Einwechter, who used to build houses in Margate, caught his first kingfish in ten years.

BRINGS MANY VISITORS

Fishing, though usually in the background, is one of the prime developers of Margate, being second only to bathing. That this sport brings many thousands of enthusiasts here was proven last Sunday when local fishing boats took over 200 people out for a day's pleasure. In fact there were as many cars parked along Amherst and Washington Avenues last Sunday as any Sunday during the height of the summer season.

The Angler's Club of Absecon Island, at Essex Avenue and the Beach is another real developer of our community, having among its members prominent residents of many Eastern cities who are always among the first to take up their summer residence here.

Those enterprising men, who have made this city and its fishing grounds so well known, as well as available to visitors at moderate cost, are deserving of much commendation.

Anglers' Club Mapping Out Summer Program

Six Free Days Fishing for Visitors to the Pier Contemplated

The Anglers' Club of Absecon Island have in mind a series of free days during the last week in June. All the arrangements are not in shipshape as yet, but the Beacon will have full details in its next issue.

Walter E. Hatton, of Jenkintown, Pa., and William C. Lang, of Indian Council Rock, Newton, Pa., were among the visitors at the Club House last Sunday.

The boys are getting drums and spots in the Bay and Kings from the Pierhead. Some of the drums weighed over 60 pounds each. Jack Augenblick and Leon Fair being among the successful ones.

Following is the weekly catch from the Pier:

H. Gardner	4
H. Colehower	2
Chas. Thompson	2
Fred Wigman	2
Dr. Berkenstock	2
Joe Roberts	5
Ness Irvine	5
Joe Bush	1
Link Myers	4
Wm. Moore	2
Dr. Brigadale	1
Wm. Peezulet	1
M. J. Lindenfelter	1
Mahlon Taylor	6
Henry Asam	1
M. B. Taylon	2
Ed. Lindell	3
Chas. Scherbaum	3
H. Michael	1
Doc Colehower	3
Dr. Parker	2
Judge Lindell	3
J. R. Valliant	5
Wm. Byers	1

Joe Roberts Gets the First

Joe Roberts was the lucky fisherman to catch the first kingfish of the season, Joe pulling in eight of them on Saturday last off the pier of the Anglers' Club in this city.

Then the news spread and on Sunday quite a coterie of the club members tried their luck. Among them were Frank Jacobs, Henry Asam, Doc. Colehower, Joe Bush, Harry Michaels, Bill Byers, Willis Johnson, Paul Kelly, William Beyers, Judge Lindell, A. D. Henry, Leon Fair, Toby Greco, Bud Green, C. M. Neiler, Major Dafrees and Leon Courtin.

The Club House opens officially on May 30th.

Joe Roberts Gets Four

Mr. Joe Roberts, of 119 No. Belmont Ave., has already four big drumfish to his credit. Fishing at the Mud Hole, Joe landed one on Monday, two Tuesday, and yesterday he reeled in the prize one which weighed 61 pounds.

